

TAKE ONE

Sending Fur to Canada by way of H. E. Goldberg & Co. in Seattle.

Goldberg's and Vancouver Fur Auction have set up a deal which allows trappers to ship fur to Goldberg in Seattle and have them then ship your fur to Canada. This allows trappers to avoid dealing with all the federal shipping permits that pretty much shut down trapping back in 1997. Canada pays for all this and trappers get all the money they would normally get.

Why ship Canada: Consistently better prices. Furs sold late and in summer often show no price reduction. Whatever you're getting from a middle buyer you'll get significantly more from Canada more. For questions see Stan Zuray or Lester Erhart in Tanana
